

Transforming your hospital

The new Royal London Hospital opened on 1st March 2012. Work is now underway to remove/refurbish the old hospital buildings we moved out of.

Our priority is to ensure patient safety while this work takes place, but some disruption and noise is inevitable. We are sorry about this – please bear with us. If you are concerned about the effect of the building work on your care while you are in hospital, please tell a member of staff.

Getting to The Royal London Hospital

If at all possible, please use public transport to journey to the hospital, or ask someone to drop you off.

Tube and train:

The hospital is located very close to the Whitechapel underground station. It is served by the Hammersmith and City and District lines as well as the London Overground.

Buses:

The following buses stop outside or close to the hospital on Whitechapel Road: numbers 25, 106, 205, 253 and 254 as well as night buses N25, N106 and N253.

Bus numbers 15, 115 and D3 stop close to the hospital on Commercial Road.

Low-floor wheelchair accessible buses run on all routes serving The Royal London Hospital.

Drop-off point for taxis and cars:

Patient drop-off for both the main hospital building and the Outpatients Department building is on Stepney Way.

Pedestrian access:

The main hospital building can be accessed from Whitechapel Road or Stepney Way. The Outpatients Department building can be accessed from Stepney Way.

Parking:

There is no public parking at the hospital itself, but there is metered parking in surrounding streets.
